Rumors of a Trade.

There are rumors of a deal in the sixth congressional district in the city, and appears in that Quay is getting in some fine work.

There are two candidates for congress in the district—Cavanaugh and Fitzgerald.

McGraw, the democratic candidate, has been pulled out by Quay. Fitzgerald's democracy is of doubtful record to say the least of it, but he has the endorsement of Tammany.

Cavanaugh, the county democracy nominee, is a straight democrat. Today the following letter from Quay is being circulated in the district. It is addressed to the chairman of the district republican committee, and says:

Dear Sir: There being no republican candidate in your district, I have no hesitation in saying that, in the opinion of this committee, the two democratic candidates, Mr. Cavanough is preferable to Mr. Fitzgerald. Yours, etc.

(Signed) M. S. Quay.

The Tammany men in the district are bitter in their denunciations of what they characterize as a deal between Cavanaugh's friends and Quay. They say openly that Cavanaugh's

Workers have agreed to vote and work for the election.

IT FAVERS CLEVELAND

THAT IS THE NEWS FROM NEW YORK CITY.

HOW THE BOYS PUT UP THEIR MONEY.

Both of Two to One That Cleveland Will Carry the State—Republicans Demand- ing Odds on Every Proposition.

NEW YORK, November 5.—[Staff Correspondence.]—Today has been a day of plots and counterplots. The democratic leaders have been busy watching for republican schemes, for there seems to be a deep-laid impression that Colonel Mathew Quay is loaded with dangerous tricks with which to gull un-way democrats.

An ingenious and daring plot was brought to light this morning, which goes to show the desperate condition the republicans admit they are in. The scheme contemplated the stealing of one electoral vote in every doubtful state, the republicans taking advantage of the fact that the large number of electoral candidates are comparatively unknown to the masses. It is the presumptive unfamiliarity with the names of the democratic electors that might have given this bold republican maneuver a possibility of success had the democrats not been put on their guard.

The plan was to make a systematic attack on one man throughout the state, and to pay him to voters to substitute democratic candidates for republican and local politicians. George Bechtel, a Staten Island brewer, was imprudent enough to announce that in Harrison stronghold that he was for Cleveland because he was enjoying federal patronage, and immediately he was surrounded by a crowd who proceeded to talk Harrison. It wound up by two of the almoned eyes being stabbed, and Yen in jail for examination.

George Coogan, the lawyer nomine for mayor, will probably poll 30,000 votes. This is a great deal to all the other candidates. Consequently there was much excitement today when it was reported that Coogan had withdrawn. He immediately rushed to the afternoon press and filed it with vigorous denials. "I have been offered $100,000," he said, "to pay the expense of my canvass, if I would withdraw, but there isn't enough money in the city of New York to induce me to betray the men who have placed me in nomination."

"Who offered you the $100,000?"

"That I will not say; at least, just for the present," replied Coogan, who then added: "I will say this, though, that if my supporters will tomorrow be as true to me as I will be to them, success awaits us both."

Of course Coogan has no chance, but he may defeat Grant and Hewitt both, though each of the latter are confident.

There have been numerous political rows today, the most striking of which was a little riot on Mott street, the Chinese headquarters. A Chinaman, a Japanese employed on a United States man-of-war, was imprudent enough to announce that in Harrison stronghold that he was for Cleveland because he was enjoying federal patronage, and immediately he was surrounded by a crowd who proceeded to talk Harrison. It wound up by two of the almoned eyes being stabbed, and Yen in jail for examination.

Blaine Leaves for Home.

James G. Blaine left for Maine today, to be on the day of election. Neither he nor his wife called during their stay on Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr., who is convalescing from her long illness.

An incentive to work the voters are also urged to "push Indiana to the head; it must not be the tail to the solid south." The Senate, the democratic organ, edited by Mr. Morse, has been as quiet as ever since the Journal.

The Journal threatens Marshal Hawkins with damage suits if he allows his deputies to arrest republican intimidators, but the marshal is not a man to be easily browbeaten.

The democrats have flooded with envelopes addressed to voters containing pasters with the names of men who were "to be pasted over the name of George Bechtel." If the scheme worked in anything like the degree hoped for by the republican managers, it would result in a loss of probably several thousand votes to Mr. Bechtel, causing him to run behind one of the republican electors.

The local press has been as quiet as the Journal.

The democratic campaign has been worked by frauds and forgeries, lies and forgeries, libels and slanders. It seems to have been managed by the most skilful and experienced political managers.

order that the complicated work of the night may be successfully carried through. Hundreds of our friends can find comfortable places about the building, and every window will be surrendered to them, while the streets will accommodate ten thousand people, who can read from our bulletin board and display sheet the news just as rapidly as it is received.

For out-of-town friends THE CONSTITUTION has a word. We will be glad to answer dispatches of inquiry at the moment they are received, and Mr. Grady has assigned two stenographers to this work. We shall give the news just as it comes in answer to these private dispatches, and beg the indulgence of our friends if there is any trouble or delay. It will be well to keep the telegraph operators up in small towns, as we expect to have definite news by two o'clock in the morning, upon which we can proclaim, or, at least, estimate, the electoral vote of every state. The public may rely on THE CONSTITUTION, as usual, for giving them the promptest and the fullest news. We hope to surprise even our best friends and warmest admirers by reporting this election.

At Other Points in the City?

A Western Union wire has been run into the customhouse, and the government officials and their friends will be kept thoroughly posted.

The Capital City club has prepared for the same facilities. The returns will be received there just as soon as received at the Western Union office.

Talk of the national election has absorbed all other talk and is the one thing heard everywhere about the city. Will Cleveland carry New York, Indiana, Connecticut and New Jersey—any or all of the doubtful states—that is the question most asked and upon the answers to that question the better is based.

New York gentlemen in the city seem confident of that state's going to Cleveland, and are willing to bet their opinions to the extent of $5,000 or $10,000. Odds of ten to nine are offered on a general result, with but few takers. Some small bets of hats, gloves and so forth, and some times ten or twenty dollars are given at even rates.

New Jersey is counted as safely democratic, but Connecticut is thought to be exceedingly doubtful.

But Indiana—that hoosier state—is the bone of contention. The betting now is almost entirely on Indiana and the general result. Most democrats feel confident of Indiana, but there are some who think otherwise, and the result is that "even money" is bet on that state. One bet last night was that if either New York or Indiana went democratic, and only one state went that way, that state would be Indiana. In other words, Indiana was more surely democratic than New York.

There is but little betting on majorities. Some New Yorkers have bet upon as high as ten thousand in New York. They talk 20,000, but don't bet that way.

WHERE TO VOTE.

RALLIES IN ROME.

Meetings of Both Democrats and Republicans—GRANDE ENTHUSIASME.

ROME, Ga., November 5.—[Special.] Major H. H. Heard, republican candidate for congress, addressed a republican meeting at the city hall tonight.

A democratic rally was held at the opera house tonight. The assembly was a large and enthusiastic one. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Heated. Some of the democratic executive committee, who made a few appropriate remarks. Hon. Julian C. Clements then addressed the meeting. His speech was an oration, and he was most eloquent. Hon. John T. Graves was the next speaker, and with his eloquence entertained the assembled democrats. His speech was in every respect worthy of his splendid reputation as an orator. Hon. Seaborn Wright followed in a short but eloquent address, which was applauded to the echo. The meeting adjourned and great enthusiasm.

ENTHUSIASM IN HEARD.

Speeches by Colonel Mooley and Hon. T. W. Grimes.

FRANKLIN, Ga., November 5.—[Special.] Franklin was full to the brim of democracy Saturday. District Presidential Elector Mooley and Hon. T. W. Grimes, nominees for congress, addressed a large audience at the hall, and made many warm friends. While Heard is solidly democratic the speeches will evidently bring out many voters who otherwise would have attended the polls. We will see Colmen's speech, a majority that will fully compensate his feelings for the opposition of the county in the nomination. A large crowd attended the speaking, and were satisfied with the statement of Colonel Grimes's record. The public service had preceded to his Heard constituents, and they are only anxious to show their appreciation by a rousing voice for him next Tuesday.

AN INQUEST HELD.

Over the Bodies of the Men Who Lost Their Lives at the Mine Explosion.

LOCKHART, Pa., November 5.—An inquest was held by a coroner of this county on the bodies of seventeen miners of the Kettle Creek mine explosion. The testimony of the witnesses show that dynamite caused the explosion but no blame attaches to any of the miners themselves. The scene at the mine was a somber one, when the coroner and the jury reached the point that mines were but recently opened, and are located in a desolate spot near the town of Elizaville. Several of the bodies will be buried there tomorrow, and others will be sent to different points for interment.

THE MAJORITIES OF '84.

FOR EVERY COUNTY IN THE FOUR DOUBTFUL STATES.

New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana, with New York City by Assembly Districts—Cut it Out.

THE CONSTITUTION presents below the vote for Blaine and Cleveland in every county in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana, and in each of the twenty-four assembly districts of New York city. In each case the majority or plurality is put down, so that when a bulletin announces a majority for Cleveland or Harrison in any county of these states, or any assembly district of New York city, you have only to turn to your table to see whether Cleveland has lost or gained.

By following the bulletins in this way, balancing losses against gains, you will be able to tell how the candidates are doing in their own states, and the results will cut out the returns. You will understand the significance of the disputes as you never understood them before, and as Harrison comes down through New York state to meet Cleveland at Harlem river, you will find these dry looking tables will be as interesting as any political history you ever read. Cut out the table, paste them on the leaves of your memorandum book and come read the news as it is thrown out on the canvas from THE CONSTITUTION building.

MURDER OR SUICIDE?

A NASHVILLE NEGRO KILLS HIS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF.

A Shocking Tragedy Discovered in the Ease of the First Baptist Church—The Coroner's Verdict.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., November 5.—[Special.] One of the most sensational double crimes ever committed here was committed just last night, and came to light this morning in the basement of the parsonage of the Baptist church, on Fifth and Fartherland streets, East Nashville, the dead bodies of Allen Taylor, colored, and his wife, Adeline Taylor, being found. Rev. C. S. Gardner resides in the parsonage, and one room of the basement was occupied by Adeline Taylor, employed as cook by Mr. Gardner. At the hour named, Martha Boyd, a woman in the employ of Mr. Gardner, came from her home and went to the kitchen door as usual, expecting to find Adeline preparing breakfast. Finding the door locked, she turned to the next door, intending to awake the girl. She did not knock, but simply turned the bell and pushed the door open, as she was about to call Adeline and chide her for being late, she saw in the dim light of the curtained room, the body of her husband lying in a pool of blood with her feet near the door. Quickly she ran to the door and called Mr. Gardner, who came and looked in, and shuddered and shut the door. The dim light revealed a still more horrible sight than that one, battered woman, lying on the floor, the body lay the corpse of Allen Taylor, the husband of Adeline, with his throat cut from ear to ear, and the warm blood still issuing from the ghastly wound. The woman's single garment was made of blood, and her face, which was left lay by her side. An examination revealed a bloody hatchet buried in the ashes of the grate. The skull of the woman had been crushed by a blow over the left eye. The man lay at full length on his back with his hands by his side, and his throat cut almost from ear to ear. There were bloody tracks, evidently made by the murderer, leading from the door to the grate, and back again by the body of the woman and to the side of bed. Here the tracks became almost a pool of blood.

Taylor and his wife had not been living together, but Adeline's sister said that Thomas Dunn, colored, had been boarding with her. This fact made her husband jealous and it is thought that he had threatened to kill Dunn by boarding on Main street and saw Adeline there late last night. Taylor was also in that neighborhood and doubtless saw the woman, as he did not quit the other. Dunn and Taylor had some words on Sunday afternoon, when Dunn threatened to cut Taylor with a razor. The only reasonable theory is that of murder and that the negro was the murderer, as persons, but not brought in as evidence, the negro Taylor had threatened to kill his wife and then take his own life. The evidence showed that he was jealous on account of Thomas Dunn's attention. The verdict of the coroner's jury was that "Adeline Taylor, colored, was found dead from a cut on the throat and blows of a hatchet on the head, inflicted by her husband, Allen Taylor." The jury also agreed that Allen Taylor came to his death by his own hand, cutting his throat with a razor after murdering Dunn. Dunn was arrested and locked up, but it is not thought anything can be proven against him.

THREE DEATH DESERVING CRIMES.

The Terrible Experience of Two Missouri Young Ladies With Three Negroes.

The United States court was not in session yesterday, having adjourned over Saturday until Wednesday.

A letter was received by a United States court official yesterday from West Virginia, stating that ex-United States Marshal R. D. Locke, of the southern district of Georgia, has been stamping that state for Harrison and Moore.

The officials and employees around the customhouse bussed themselves principally yesterday in the discussion of the relative chances of the two candidates for president. They are not yet sure that Mr. Cleveland's election is safe, and many other citizens of Atlanta, and have made arrangements to get the first news from the doubtful states. They have a special wire already in the building and will get the returns as fast as possible right in this office.

Rome Agent Chapman concluded his October report yesterday. It shows that ten distilleries in Georgia and Alabama were seized, ninety fermenting tubs destroyed, 4,775 gallons of beer seized, and six illicit distillers arrested. The value of the seizures are estimated at $625. The report shows a considerable decrease in the amount of illicit distilling in the two states. William McDaniel, in White County, yesterday. Besides the still he got one hundred gallons of beer and four fermenting tubs. No arrests were made.

Deputy Marshal Hershaw seized a still in the county of Dalton, Georgia, by L. C. and S. W. and George Anderson. All the parties escaped but he got and destroyed the still, one thousand gallons of beer, twenty gallons of suds and six bushels of meal and malt.

If the shipper agreed that the machinery might be transported upon open cars, the railroad would not be liable for damages caused by its being so transported; but if ordinary diligence required the carrier to cover the cars during a detention on the road, and it failed to do so, it would be liable for damages resulting from such failure.

ATLANTA, GA., NOVEMBER 6, 1888.

Today's Election.

Well, what about it?
It is purely and simply a question of money—if the republicans carry it.

The democrats have won the campaign at every point—they have done better fighting—they have a better cause—they have the trained forces—they have the political machinery.

If today the victory is snatched from them it will be through the shameless and debauching use of money in such centers as New York city, where money can be used. A private letter from Boston on yesterday stated that one million dollars had been sent from Boston to New York city for use in today's election. The writer stated that this was raised by subscriptions from all classes of people, including ladies, some of whom subscribed as much as five thousand dollars. This enormous sum is but one of the currents that is flowing into the republican corruption fund in New York and Indiana.

If money can buy an election, the republicans will buy Harrison's today.

But we do not believe it can. The bribery of a voter is a penitentiary offense, and the democrats have stanch and true men on guard at every polling place in New York city today. They are men who cannot be deceived, and who will not be bullied, and the creatures who handle the republican boodle will find themselves in the penitentiary if they do not move mighty slow.

We do not believe there will be much trading in a political way in New York today. Tammany and the county democracy are each on their metal and each understands that the eyes of the whole democratic party are on New York. To knife Cleveland today would be to invite everlasting ruin and disgrace, and they are not apt to do that.

Altogether it looks very much like Cleveland, and we firmly believe that THE CONSTITUTION of tomorrow morning will carry to its thousands of readers the news of his decisive victory—which means the dominion of the democracy for twenty years to come.

At any rate we shall, at midnight of this night, load our little CONSTITUTION cannon up to the lips, with good democratic powder, and we expect to touch her off at 2:10 o'clock on Wednesday morning. When we do, her joyful and continuing howl will be heard from the Ninkajack to Tybee light.

Don't fail to vote today—and vote the democratic ticket.

Two Great Fairs.

The state fair at Macon, and the North East Georgia fair at Athens opened yesterday morning—and both should have the earnest and cordial support of Georgians everywhere. Admirable programs have been arranged for each fair, involving sight seeing, sentiment and profit.

Atlanta gave to the Rome exposition a splendid patronage. Five or six hundred people went up one day, and Rome and Atlanta fraternized in the best of spirits. The train was packed, and had more cars been offered more people would have gone. Let the same support be given to Athens, and to Macon.

In Athens one day is set apart for Atlanta, and on that day Mr. Hoke Smith will make an address which we are sure will be admirable, and he should have the compliment of a delegation of hundreds of Atlanta's good people to carry him to Atlanta. In Macon a day is also set apart for Atlanta, and while the speaker who has been designated to represent Atlanta will not be able to be there, Atlanta will be represented by hundreds of her best people.

Nothing pays Georgia so well as fairs and expositions. They bring the people together, quicken the sense of comradeship, scatter progressive ideas, interest new investors, and inform the prospector who is within our gates, and benefit Georgia, and every man who lives in Georgia. Let us stand up to Athens, and to Macon, and give each a rousing excursion from Atlanta.

HALSTEAD'S sectional mill continues to grind out grist to the last.

About Style.

The New York Sun has an able editorial on "style," suggested by the inquiry of a correspondent, who seems to be troubled with an ambition or a desire to write. The world is full of such inquirers, and it is a curious fact that they all want to find the shortest road to success. They are willing to copy, imitate, plagiarize, and steal, if only by that means they can attract the attention of the public.

They have seen in their text books, and occasionally in the country newspapers, that "style" is a very big thing in literature, and straightway they write to the editors to tell them something about it. There seems to be an alarming development of the literary faculty in the south, and we suppose that during the past year we have dropped into the editorial waste-basket more than a thousand communications from old people and young people, who write to inquire how they can form a literary style. It is to be regretted, perhaps, that these communications find their way to the waste-basket; but what is to be done with them? They cannot be answered. There is no rule by which a literary style can be acquired, and it is fortunate that this is so, for if it were otherwise, we should have a shocking sameness in our literary methods and results, and there would be little or no variety.

The Sun, replying to its correspondent, says that "by common consent Cardinal Newman is the greatest living master of a pure, idiomatic, luminous, elegant English style." Here the adjective is run into the ground without ceremony, but there is no doubt that Cardinal Newman is the greatest living master of idiomatic English. Just why this should be so is not to be accounted for in any book of composition or rhetoric.

It is a matter that escapes those who attempt to philosophize about it. Rules are as worthless as comments and suggestions. They have neither weight nor bearing. When the Sun informs its correspondent that Cardinal Newman is a master of English style, what is the outcome? The correspondent hunts up some of Cardinal Newman's books, and is disgusted at their rank simplicity. He finds in them the tongue in which he begged his mother for milk, and he is sure that the Sun must be wrong; but the Sun is right.

There are but two features characteristic of style. They are simplicity and individuality. It is not within the reach of all to touch simplicity; and only the great masters can join simplicity to individuality. It is a great pity that those who essay to write cannot understand this. A writer who has no individuality cannot have style, and is, therefore, no writer. The gift is not his, for simplicity is nothing without individuality, and individuality is worthless without simplicity.

At the same time, our young writers ought to bear in mind that only genius can attain simplicity, and that genius only can attain individuality.

THE WAY TO DO IN GEORGIA TODAY IS TO GO AND VOTE FOR THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES RIGHT STRAIGHT THROUGH.

THE DUDLEY CORRUPTION FUND IN INDIANA IS TO BE VERY LARGE.

THE SOUTH KNOWS HOW TO VOTE FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT.

THE REPUBLICANS ARE TRYING TO STEAL A MARCH ON OLD FULTON AND STAIN HIS NAME BY CARRYING THE COUNTY FOR THE REPUBLICANS. BE SURE TO VOTE AND THE LITTLE TRICK WON'T WORK.

THE OFFICIAL REPORT OF 4,277 CASES AND 364 DEATHS FROM YELLOW FEVER IN JACKSONVILLE IS A GRATIFYING TESTIMONIAL OF THE EFFICACY OF THE TREATMENT. THIS EIGHT AND A HALF PER CENT MORTALITY, WHEN COMPARED WITH THE DEATH RATE IN FORMER EPIDEMICS, SHOWS THAT ALTHOUGH WE HAVE NOT BEEN ABLE TO PREVENT THE APPEARANCE OF YELLOW FEVER, WE ARE LEARNING HOW TO TREAT IT SUCCESSFULLY. THE PESTILENCE IS LOSING MANY OF ITS FORMER TERRORS.

VOTE TODAY FOR CLEVELAND AND STEWART AND BE SURE THAT YOUR ELECTORAL TICKET IS RIGHT.

THE PUBLIC MUST BE GREATLY SHOCKED AT THE WHOLESALE BREACH OF CONFIDENCE BY THE EDITORS IN PRINTING THE PRIVATE LETTERS OF THEIR CORRESPONDENTS. THERE OUGHT TO BE A LAW AGAINST THIS SORT OF THING.

VOTE TODAY FOR OLD FULTON'S SAKE.

FOUR! FOUR! FOUR YEARS MORE!

FROM THE NEW YORK HERALD.

HARDLY HAS THE NOBLE REPUBLICAN BANDS BEEN REELING HOME FROM THEIR LAST DESPAIRING EFFORT TO AROUSE ENTHUSIASM FOR MR. BLAINE'S FRIEND HARRISON, WHEN ALL NEW YORK Poured OUT OF DOORS AND THE STREETS BEGAN TO SWAY WITH THE TREAD OF THE DEMOCRATIC ARMY. A GREAT POLITICAL DEMONSTRATION THAT AMERICA HAS SEEN.

NIGHT WAS TURNED INTO DAY. THE HEROES RELENTED THE GLARE THAT SPREAD OVER THE METROPOLIS AS BLOWS OF FIRE WENT BEAVERING THROUGH THE STREETS TOWARD THE VAST SQUARE, WHERE, AMONG TOSSING SEAS OF TEARS, THE PEOPLE DROPPED DOWN UPON THE REARING DOMINION OF THE MARMOTS.

ALL THIS WAS TO WELL UNDERSTOOD THAT THEY WERE DRIVING BOTH CAPITAL AND LABOR FROM ATLANTA. IF BOTH WERE GONE, THE COUNTRY WOULD BE LEFT WITH A MAJORITY, A CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT EXEMPTING FROM TAXATION ONLY THE LAND THAT THEY OWNED.

IN MY JUDGMENT ATLANTA SHOULD BE IN THIS DEFENSE. PROGRESSIVE INDIANS WOULD BE THE BANDITS WHILE THOSE WHO OWNED LANDS ARE FADED BY UNDERSKINNING.

THE RAILWAY NEWS.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE STATE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

The Annual Report of the State Railroad Commission Will be Filed with Governor Gordon Today.

It is an interesting document and gives in detail the features of railway improvements and operations in the state during the year covered by the report.

It shows the great increase in railway mileage and the extent of the labor necessary to keep the commission fully informed as to the matters coming under their control. The report deals in convincing style with the purposes for which the commission was created, and in explaining the intricacies and perplexities that surround the corporation involving the "long and short haul" clause.

The report is as complete as the great importance of the subject demands, and proves the ability of the commissioners.

The report will be published in full in the Constitution at as early a date as practicable.

Another Combination.

The New York Herald has the following interesting bit of railroad gossip:

Mr. Sidney Haven has been making a tour of inspection of the Wheeling and Lake Erie road. He was in Toledo, Ohio, yesterday, and the simultaneous arrival of other railroad magnates in that city has set the local gossip talking. It is said that the purpose is for the purpose of considering a practical consolidation of the Wheeling and Lake Erie, the Dayton, Fort Wayne and Chicago, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railways.

It appears that in his tour of inspection the president of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, vice-president and general manager, and C. H. Wilson, chief engineer of the Wheeling and Lake Erie, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, the Dayton, Fort Wayne and Chicago, and the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, directors of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, and Henry F. Smith, president of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, and C. C. Waite, of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. The above named persons own, control individually or jointly the stock in the Wheeling and Lake Erie, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, and the Dayton, Fort Wayne and Chicago railways, and it is believed in view of the present condition of the country, that uniting their interests, possibly not by consolidation, but by forming a proprietary corporation which shall own a controlling amount of the stock of each.

Celebrating the Connection.

The Atlanta division of the order of Young Conductors are making every preparation to have a good time at their annual meeting in Atlanta on the 17th and 18th of the present month. Captain Joe. H. Latimer takes a great interest in the success of this meeting, and is doing all he can to help the order of Young Conductors, and says everything is progressing finely. One feature of the meeting will be the grand "Gala to Augustus on the 18th" at the exposition.

The Rumor Denied.

Speaking of the rumor that the Richmond Terminal people, who also own the road, were negotiating for control of the Baltimore and Ohio, Vice-President Lord, of the Baltimore and Ohio, says that he does not see how the Richmond Terminal could make it pay to buy the Baltimore and Ohio, and President George S. Scott of the Terminal company, says that there is not a scintilla of truth in the story.

An Appointment.

Receicer R. T. Dorsay has appointed Mr. H. M. Smith, of Rome, chief engineer of the Rome and Decatur railroad. Mr. Smith was a resident engineer in the construction of the Georgia division of the East Tennessee railroad and was afterwards made chief engineer on the Atlanta and Atlantic and during the time of his service in the division, and the character of the work is a fine testimonial of Mr. Smith's ability as a railroad engineer.

Brief Mention.

There was a heavy travel to Macon yesterday.

Superintendent E. Berkeley, of the Richmond and Decatur, goes to Charlotte today. C. V. Chears, general freight and passenger agent of the Georgia Midland and Gulf, is in the city.

H. W. Morrison, general agent of the "Cotton Belt Route," headquartered at Memphis, arrived in the city yesterday.

Sam S. Smith, of Birmingham and North Alabama, in the Southern and North Alabama Injunction case is still before the courts and a decision will hardly be reached before tomorrow.

W. A. Wiggins, southern passenger agent of the Cincinnati, Richmond and St. Louis, in the quarters at Chattanooga, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. A. S. Pardee, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Kansas and Nebraska, railroad, will hardly be reached before tomorrow.

Commissioner S. Carter has issued a circular giving the rates and conditions of tickets reading to the Chatanooga Valley exposition at Chattanooga, which will be on November 1. Limited to return December 2.

The election excitement has been giving passenger traffic a setback during the past week, but the weather has cleared away, and Cleveland elected Railroad men are tired of political talk on this account, and say that it is over.

Sam B. Webb, traveling passenger agent of the Central, says that his road is positively the only one running trains out of the Atlanta union depot, carrying only coaches and sleepers. Waycross has a close connection is made with the trains of the Savannah, Florida and Western railway for Florida points.

SOCIETY GOSPI.

Last evening the people taking part in Gibson's beautiful opera, the "Sorceress" met at Mrs. W. M. Dickson's and had a full rehearsal. They are progressing finely. The music is bright and taking, and the songs and plot infinitely funny. It will be when presented one of the finest musical treats ever given to an Atlanta audience. On Wednesdays evening there will be a rehearsal at Mrs. Crichton's.

The Roman Catholic fair was successful as usual yesterday. Any little boy or girl, wishing a velocipede or tricycle has a chance of winning one at the booth presided over by Mrs. Spalding and Mrs. John Lynch. The prize is a new velocipede. The girls, however, have received many handsome donations, among them a fine portrait of Father Kelly, to be raffled; a handsome turban, from Rich's; an elegant brass lamp, from Mr. Stillson; an iridescent cut glass and silver berry bowl, from Mr. Bolman; a dainty little brass teakettle and a wedgewood individual tea set, from Mr. John Dooman. Chief of Police Wiley has appointed twenty-five extra police to help handle the great crowds to be here during fair.

State Senator Elect C. L. Holmes, of the Lawrenceville and Union county district, is in Macon to-day.

Colonel E. C. Machen has returned from a visit to the north.

A COSTLY BLAZE.

A LARGE CONFLAGRATION IN MACON YESTERDAY.

Several Fine Buildings With Large Stocks of Goods Ruined by the Flames—The State Fair—Other News.

MACON, Ga., November 5.—[Special.]—This afternoon at a quarter past 5 o'clock fire broke out in the cellar of T. C. Burke's handsome three-story building on Third street, used for painter's supplies, oil, mantel pieces, etc. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Sol Gullins, a colored glazier, started down stairs into the cellar, when he discovered a fire supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. The fire started in the rear cellar, where oil was stored. The building and contents were totally consumed. With difficulty the books in the office were saved. Two hundred and fifty dollars in currency, left in the office drawer, were burned. The fire was communicated to an adjoining building on the left, occupied by C. H. Taylor's furniture store, which was destroyed. Mr. Taylor's stock was small; mostly saved, but in a damaged condition. The store adjoining, Burkes, was right, occupied by Nussbaum, Van Syckel & Tindall, crockery, glassware, cutlery, stores, etc., was destroyed, with contents; also the adjoining store of D. H. Adams & Co., whole-grocers. With the greatest difficulty the fire was prevented spreading and burning the entire block, in which are located Nussbaum's five-story dry goods building, Exchange Bank, Nussbaum, Van Syckel & Tindall, hardware store, United States court building, etc.

Several firemen narrowly escaped death from falling walls. Fireman Burkett was slightly hurt, and John Mound, colored, was injured. An immense crowd gathered, to witness the conflagration. There was great consternation lost barrels of oil in Burke's store should explode with fatal effect. When the fire entered Nussbaum, Van Syckel & Tindall and Adams & Co., belonged to Mrs. Julia C. Reed, valued at $10,000 each; insurance, $25,000.

FIVE FINE HORSES

GOING ALONG PRYOR STREET AT FULL GALLOP.

Attract the Attention of People—True Bills Against McCord and Heflin Cause a Midnight Ride.

Five officers dashing along Pryor street as fast as five horses could gallop!

What an unusual sight!

The squad was led by Deputy Sheriff Perkins.

The deputy was not astride "Old Finger Tall," but as he cleft the air in twin riding silhouette, he thought of the old dead grey and many a wild ride he had taken upon his back.

Where was the quintette?

Many people asked that question at the party went by.

They were going to the country, and the Eddleman jury's verdict was the cause of the ride.

The great jury convened again yesterday morning, and the grand work was commenced the hall and stairway was full of witnesses who had been summoned to be present. The first witness introduced into the jury room was asked about the supposed crooked features of the Eddleman trial. Then every other witness was questioned in the same manner. Finally a witness was introduced who claimed to know where Heflin and McCord were concealed.

This witness was closely questioned.
The jury, after hearing from the witnesses,
found true bills against Heflin and McCord.
In the true bills the two men are charged
with false swearing, and are, of course,
subject to warrants which have been issued for
their arrest.

These cigarettes are fine ones. We have tried them and know what we say.

Then the true bills were found the warrants were issued and placed in the hands of the sheriff. The sheriff was acquainted with the location of the missing
men as given by the witness, and in a short time the papers were placed in the hands of the sheriff, Sheriff Parkinson. The deputy, however, was advised to make no move in the matter
until after dark.

Just before dark Parkinson secured Mounted Officer Goodson's promise to accompany him to the country. Heflin and McCord

their arrest.

These cigarettes are fine ones. We have tried them and know what we say.

Then the true bills were found the warrants were issued and placed in the hands of the sheriff. The sheriff was acquainted with the location of the missing
men as given by the witness, and in a short
time the papers were placed in the hands of the sheriff, Sheriff Parkinson. The deputy, however, was advised to make no move in the matter
until after dark.

Just before dark Parkinson secured Mount-
ed Officer Goodson's promise to accompany him to the country. Heflin and McCord
in the true bills the two men are charged
with false swearing, and are, of course,
subject to warrants which have been issued for
their arrest.
